Our Services

In our mission to showcase the legacy of Africans & the African Diaspora we provide independent black filmmakers/content creators with the tangible and intellectual resources needed to take a project from inception to finished product. We then will take it a step further by offering "monetization solutions" through video streaming distribution on "H2N TV".

ABOUT THE COMPANY

Founded in 2020, H2N Studios is a Detroit-based organization that provides various services in content creation for independent black filmmakers and entrepreneurs. H2N Studios provide their clients the tangible and intellectual resources needed to take a project from inception to finished product. Additionally, the platform operates as a networking hub for black-owned businesses and black production professionals for hire.

With a focus on producing quality, informative content about black culture, created by black artists, for the black community, H2N Studios fills the very big need in the current social climate for consistently positive presentations of the black experience. Along with the H2N TV streaming platform, H2N Studios is a subsidiary of the Hebrews to Negroes enterprise created by author and documentary filmmaker Ronald Dalton Jr.

Meet Our CEO

RONALD DALTON JR.

"We plan on sharing our rich heritage and culture for all the world to see."

Ronald Dalton Jr. was born in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania to African-American parents. Ronald's mother's lineage hails from Antigua of the West Indies. She grew up in the New York housing projects in Harlem, experiencing the Black Power movement amongst leaders Malcolm X, Marcus Garvey, and Huey Newton. Ronald's father, a West Virginia native, had a very different experience growing up there under the oppressive racism of Jim Crow. The two would eventually meet in the renown Greater Refuge Temple in Harlem on Adam Clayton Powell Blvd. Little did they know their firstborn child was destined to be a visionary and truth seeker.

As a youth in a black Pentecostal Christian household, Ron sat through countless church services where he read the Bible from beginning to end, multiple times. He was a voracious reader, favoring books that expanded his knowledge of the world. As a young adult, Ron had a deep curiosity about aspects of the Bible that left unanswered questions; eventually his experience working in a hospital in Michigan would lead him to the answers he sought. At Sinai-Grace in Detroit, Ronald witnessed the suffering of his fellow black people on a grand scale, and the experience changed his world perspective. In one night of deep prayer Ron asked God for wisdom and knowledge to explain the madness he saw throughout the black community. God heard his prayers and opened Ron's eyes to the truth. From that day on, God would reveal the truth in bits and pieces about the heritage of black people in America, the real bloodline descendants of the ancient Hebrew Israelites of the Bible.

God led Ron to the truth about the Negroes of the African Diaspora, scattered to different countries to live under extreme oppression for hundreds of years. As Ron's knowledge of the true history of Negroes grew it became too much to bear alone; it was evident to him that the information needed to be shared with his people. He began writing a book about the knowledge he had obtained from God. "Hebrews to Negroes: Wake Up Black America" was the culmination of many years of study and research in deep communion with God. The magnificent collection of hidden knowledge would eventually become a series of four books, and eleven film and video documentaries beginning with: Hebrews to Negroes: Wake Up Black America, and Hebrews to Negroes 2: Revelation – The Age of the Awakening.

Today Ron enjoys teaching and enlightening others on the true history of the bloodline Hebrews. Ron believes that truth is priceless, and cannot be stopped from reaching the world. His favorite motto, "A lie cannot live forever", is evidenced in the wealth of knowledge encapsulated in the "Hebrews to Negroes" books and films, and in Ron's tireless efforts to expose age-old lies about the identity of Black Americans, Afro-Latinos, Afro-Caribbeans and Africans by educating his people on their real heritage.
